Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to clearly show the hook members of the collar, and the plies of the reinforcing elements which are parallel and crossed over. The angles of 30 degrees to 65 degrees are not shown as described in the specification. The sides and corner regions of the device, such as at 202, 210, 21, and 34 are poorly shown and details of the construction are unclear.

Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of the legal terms "said" and "at least two." Further, the use of the phrase "element of the same name" does not provide a clear description of the invention as required in an abstract.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The term "said" should be used in the specification. See at least lines 2, 3, 13, 26, and 29, for instance.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: There is no antecedent basis for an embodiment in which the tire has more than two beads as set forth in claim 1 by the use of the term “a tire with at least two beads...” in the preamble. If Applicants intend to cover such an embodiment, then it must be properly disclosed.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 1-3 are objected to because of the following informalities: The use of the term “the said” is confusing and redundant and should be changed to - -said- -. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1 it is not clear how a tire with more than two beads could be mounted on the collar which has only two bead seats.

In claim 1 the “blocking element” is inferentially claimed and it is not clear where this element is disposed, or if it is part of the invention. “The complementary element” lacks antecedent basis. The term "element of the same name" is indefinite and should be spelled out in the claims. The term "similar" is indefinite because it is not clear how much the same or different the elements must be to be similar. The term "with the standards in force" is indefinite as it is not clear what they would be, and if the standards change it is not clear what would comprise the new parameters of the claim.

Art Unit: 3617

In claim 2 the term "which may be between" is indefinite and it is not clear what the angles of the collars would be. Further, it is not clear how the at least two plies can be parallel and also crossed over as set forth in claim 2.

In claim 3 the "edges of the rim" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

7. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Bestgen (WO 00/78565).

The rolling assembly shown in figure 1 of Bestgen compromises a tire, a collar A made of a polymeric material and including reinforcing rings 25 and comprising left and right collar members, hook members 20 having a bead seat, and a blocking element at 22 fitted in an element of the same name 31 in the rim.

Art Unit: 3617

With respect to claim 2, at least two plies of reinforcement elements 21, 24, 26 are provided. The elements cross over as they wrap around the cord 23.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claim 3 would appear to be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references show other rolling assemblies.
